It is with immense pride that I recommend Master Rachit Gianchandani for recognition of his extraordinary contributions as a young citizen of Maharashtra. At the age of 17, he has demonstrated vision and maturity beyond his years by actively working to expand access to government health insurance schemes such as the Mahatma Jyotirao Phule Jan Arogya Yojana and the Ayushman Bharat-Pradhan Mantri Jan Arogya Yojana. His efforts through the Reliance Foundation have positively impacted the lives of many families across the sector of his service. We look forward to exploring how his concept of the digital app 'Aarogya Connect' and his hard work can be scaled up.

What sets Master Rachit apart is not only his commitment to service but also the strength of his leadership. He has shown the courage to dream big, the ability to inspire others and the resilience to turn his ideas into meaningful action. These qualities mark him as a social worker in the making, someone who will undoubtedly continue to shape society with empathy, responsibility and innovation. His journey stands as an inspiring example of how youth leadership can contribute to nation-building. I also compliment his school, which nurtured him the ambition to aspire and dream big to serve our motherland. I wish him all the best for his all endeavours.
